2. Book Reading & Reflection

Research proves that reading books stimulates a complex network of signals and circuits in the brain, improves concentration and creates new synapses within the brain that strengthens the old ones. Building the habit of reading among student teachers helps them to improve the ability to empathize, improve communication skills and also provide them with valuable life lessons. Thus, the programs offered by the college provide scope for Book Reading & writing Reflections.

Student teachers (B. Ed.) thoroughly read through the subject textbooks and write a review to understand the aims & objectives, content and material provided in the textbook. A comprehensive understanding of the textbook enables them to prepare appropriate lesson plans to teach. Students of B. Ed. & M. Ed. write review on books (Literary/Non-Literary) as part of reading skill enhancement & reflective & expository reading activities. Samples of the activities are given below:
